JURNAL KEUANGAN DAN BISNIS

PUBLICATION POLICY AND PROCESS JURNAL KEUANGAN DAN BISNIS (JKB)

Jurnal Keuangan dan Bisnis (JKB) is an academic journal published by the Institute for Research and Community Service (LPPM), Catholic University of Musi Charitas (UKMC), Palembang. The journal focuses on the fields of Economics, Management, Business Finance, and Accounting, aiming to disseminate high-quality research and facilitate knowledge exchange among academics, researchers, and practitioners. JKB is published biannually in March and October and is accredited by SINTA with Rank 4, reflecting its commitment to high scientific standards and a rigorous peer-review process.

The peer review process in JKB is conducted through a blind review system to ensure objectivity and maintain the quality of the assessment. All submitted manuscripts are first screened by the editorial board to ensure alignment with the journal's scope and adherence to basic quality standards. Manuscripts that pass this initial screening are sent to reviewers who evaluate their originality, relevance, methodological rigor, contribution to existing knowledge, and clarity of presentation. Based on this evaluation, reviewers provide recommendations, which may include acceptance without revision, acceptance with minor revisions, acceptance with major revisions, or rejection. The review process typically takes four to six weeks, depending on the availability of reviewers and the complexity of the manuscript.

Accepted manuscripts undergo an editing process to ensure clarity, coherence, and formatting consistency. Authors required to make revisions must submit their revised manuscripts within two to four weeks, addressing all feedback from reviewers. Revised manuscripts may undergo additional rounds of review if necessary. Once the revisions are complete and all requirements are met, including payment of Article Processing Charges (APC), the editorial board issues a Letter of Acceptance (LOA) as an official confirmation that the manuscript has been accepted for publication.

JKB adheres to strict publication ethics. Plagiarism, data fabrication, and image manipulation are strictly prohibited. Authors are responsible for ensuring the originality of their work and for properly citing sources. Both reviewers and authors must disclose any potential conflicts of interest that could influence the review process. All articles published in JKB are licensed under the Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial 4.0 (CC BY-NC 4.0), allowing use, distribution, and reproduction with proper citation of the original source.

As part of its commitment to long-term accessibility and preservation, JKB is included in the LOCKSS and CLOCKSS archival systems. Additionally, the journal utilizes the PKP Preservation Network (PKP PN), which offers free archiving services for journals meeting specific criteria. These measures ensure the security and availability of published content over the long term.

With a vision to become a leading journal in finance and business, JKB remains dedicated to supporting innovative academic research and practical insights. All published articles aim to make a significant contribution to the advancement of knowledge and practice in finance, management, and accounting.

Disclaimer:

JKB is not responsible for any fraud resulting from author negligence, including but not limited to the use of falsified Letters of Acceptance (LOA). Authors are strongly advised to verify all communications with the journal through official channels.

Author Guidelines

Jurnal Keuangan dan Bisnis (JKB)

Jurnal Keuangan dan Bisnis (JKB) is published biannually by the Catholic University Musi Charitas (UKMC) Palembang, in March and October. The journal aims to disseminate research findings to academics and practitioners interested in the fields of finance and business. The scope of articles includes economics, management, and accounting. JKB accepts only articles with English as the writing language. The article is subject to the guidelines of writing arranged by the editor, where acceptance or rejection is subjective to the editor's evaluation. JKB also states that the highest result of the plagiarism check is 20%, excluding bibliographic data

Article Selection Process

Articles are selected for publication by the editor and peer reviewers through a blind review process. Articles are evaluated based on their compliance with journal publication standards, methodological clarity, and contribution to the advancement of knowledge and practice. The editor and peer reviewers are responsible for providing constructive feedback and, if necessary, providing evaluation results to the authors.

Article Submission

Articles can only be submitted via the JKB Online Journal System (OJS). The journal does not accept submissions via email or direct mail.

Article Submission Guidelines
